Atlanta’s protests over the violent deaths of George Floyd in Minneapolis, MN, Breonna Taylor in Louisville, KY and Ahmaud Aubery in Brunswick, GA began with a ‘peaceful, social distancing march’ on Friday, May 29 that started at Centennial Olympic Park and ended at Georgia’s State Capitol building. With a turnout numbering in the thousands, this peaceful protest was the beginning of an uprising in Atlanta that would become a part of a statement that continues to reverberate all over the world.
