“The public’s contribution to local journalism like The Atlanta Voice is so very important. At The Atlanta Voice we are telling the stories of the community. Our voices matter. Our community matters. Facts matter. Producing journalism that impacts our readers is what we do best and have done for the past 55 years, and in order to keep doing that at this level we need all the financial assistance we can get.” - Chia Suggs, Sales/Admin for @theatlantavoice #atlantavoice
